

INDIANA

Nationwide, COVID-19 has had a devastating impact on the arts. Thanks to historic investments, the NEA is helping the arts and cultural sector to recover, rebuild, and reopen. In 2020:

- Arts and cultural production in Indiana added 2% or $7.6 billion to the state's economy.
- Indiana's arts and cultural industries employed 78,328 workers. These workers earned wages and benefits totaling over $4.6 billion.

GRANTS TO THE STATE

Over a five-year period (FY 2018-2022), the NEA distributed $11,716,696 in federal funds to grant applicant organizations in this state, either directly or through state and regional partners.

The Arts Endowment awarded 130 direct grants throughout Indiana over the past 5 years, totaling $9,985,588. These direct grants included:

- Urban Artisans, a vocational internship program for youth with disabilities
- IndyArts Education, a collective impact initiative connecting schools with arts organizations to ensure equitable access to arts education for students in Indianapolis
- The annual MLK Day Celebration Concert in South Bend, featuring young African American and Latino artists

NEA NATIONAL INITIATIVES IN THE STATE

In addition to offering direct grants, the NEA supports national initiatives benefiting people across the country. Over the past five years:

Blue Star Museums program provided free admission to thousands of active military personnel and their families at 84 participating museums in Indiana.

Poetry Out Loud program provided opportunities for an average of 1,408 students per year attending 77 unique high schools in Indiana to appreciate—through study, memorization, and public recitation— great poetry.

The NEA Big Read program generated 247 community events focused on reading outstanding American literature and involving more than 12,478 adults and students in Indiana.
